

BRIANNE JOSEPH

OFFICIAL PRESS KIT 2019

BIO

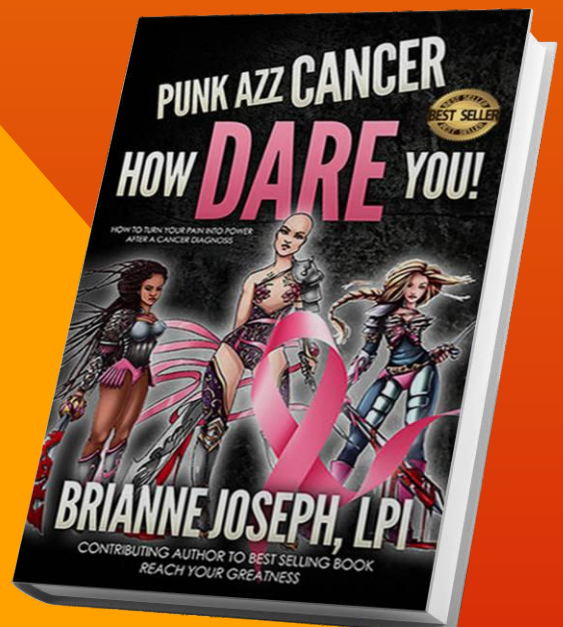

Brianne Joseph is an award-winning, nationally recognized Entrepreneur, Private Investigator, Best-selling author, and speaker. She is the Owner and Head Investigator at Sly Fox Investigations - an all female, six-figure Private Investigation agency. She is also the owner of Punk Azz Cancer, a breast cancer empowerment brand. Brianne has been a Licensed Private Investigator in the state of Louisiana for 13 years. She has been featured in national publications including Essence Magazine, The Atlanta Post, and many others. She is a contributing author to entrepreneurial book 'Reach Your Greatness' and author to inspirational book 'Punk Azz Cancer, How Dare You!'

A recognized leader, Brianne was previously the Region II Director of the Louisiana Private Investigators Association, she was honored at the BR 40 Under 40 Entrepreneurs Award ceremony, was named the 2011 'Investigator Of The Year ' by the National Association of Investigative Specialists, and was awarded 2017 'Best Private Investigator in New Orleans' by Expertise. Brianne is also the State Leader for the Young Survival Coalition- an organization that provides resources to breast cancer survivors under 40.

As a sought after speaker, Brianne engages audiences in an authentic and compassionate way that touches the heart and inspires change. Brianne's personal experiences including growing her business from $0 to 6 figures while raising toddlers, to losing everything she owned in a flood – twice, to battling depression and surviving breast cancer, have made her an expert in courage and resiliency. These inspiring experiences provide a valuable core to her message.

Brianne has spoken at Xavier University, LSU, Louis Martinet Society, and women's empowerment events such as One Woman Fearless Summit. In addition to running her successful Private Investigation agency, Brianne travels the country as a keynote speaker for Oncology Conferences, educating doctors and oncology staff on ways they can help empower their patients. Brianne is also the recipient of the 2019 'Esprit De Femme' award, presented by LSU's Womens Center for her contributions to women's empowerment.

Remember the 90s TV Show Stingray with Bruce Willis and Cyndi Shepler? Sheplers was a former model who opened her own private detection agency. Well, we've got our own model-turned-private investigator right here in Baton Rouge.

As a model, Brianne Joseph worked with artists like Martin Corney and L.C. Cole. But for the past few years she's been known as Sly Fox, with offices here and New Orleans.

When she's not running through public records or sitting on a stakeout, Joseph is a crisis counselor and community promoter for the Battered Women's Shelter and a volunteer with the Miss Black Louisiana pageant.

More Than One Way To Catch A Cheater

More Than One Way To Catch A Cheater: Death is Cheating? You've most likely suspected your mate of cheating, you know the all-consuming desire to confirm your suspicions. Before you follow your instincts to work and go ballistic on every woman in the office, meet Cheater, private investigator Brianne Joseph says leave the stake outs to the pros. EVIDENCE comes in many forms. As first and foremost is the behavior of your own and she'll be able to decide to call in an expert to bring him down. Show Me A Sign? It's important to recognize the signs of cheating. Brianne says, "There are two very common signs of cheating behavior: poor communication and decreased engagement. If with poor communication, the cheater is still interested in his partner, but is not in love with someone else. You might notice him have a sudden need for more space, he will often be more protective over his beauty and wardrobe. If with decreased engagement, the cheater is in love with his partner and also has a love affair someone else. He behaves in a manner, his affection will increase and decrease alternately. For Cheater's sake, she recommends that her clients keep a journal to document what their partners say. "I tell them to ask their partner a question and write down their answer and then ask them the same question a few weeks later." Joseph suggests, "We read of how James Bond got caught in the 'Change It Up' and he had people to watch up their mistakes." Joseph says, "Cheaters will cheat based on your routine. If you search it up on them, and come home early or late, you might catch them. Like that 'Oh No! Not Cheater! How'd you not a licensed private investigator you could get in big trouble following your own instincts." Don't take it upon yourself to follow anything it could be interpreted as
